

Age Of Excess

By Alec Cross

AGE OF EXCESS

- The economy was booming during the 1920's.
- Americans were confident in there economy. Americans would make iffy investments in the stock market to get big profit.
- Manufacturers created installment plans and clever advertising that would promote consumers to go and buy on credit.

AGE OF EXCESS

- Advertisers would use psychology to help get more consumers to buy products.
- The us would enter as WWI as a debtor nation then they came out as the largest creditor.
- Americans would buy more than ever. This would lead to labor relations.

If
this rich lovely hair were Yours

How happy you could be with hair like this! The years that would drop from you; the added charm your face would show! And hair as beautiful and abundant as this can asily be yours with the marvellous aid Lavona Hair Tonic can give you.

Lavona Hair Tonic is the supreme hair-grower, hair-beautifier and dandruff-remover. It wards off and banishes early greyness and it puts a lasting life and lustre into the hair as nothing else can. Lavona acts surely and naturally—it contains a wonderful secret and exclusive element that restores the starving hair to life as water revives a parched plant. Just try it—get a 2/1rd. bottle from the nearest chemist and if you're not amazed and delighted with results, send in the guarantee form enclosed with the package and get your money back in full.

Don't Sigh!—Just use Lavona Hair Tonic.

alamy stock photo DEW2PN
www.alamy.com