

NEW ENTERTAINMENT

By Alec Cross

NEW ENTERTAINMENT

Movies with sound came out in the 1920's. These movies had sound in them. All the movies before had no sound at all it was basically a mime.

The mass media was getting a lot bigger in the 1920's. There were more tools to communicate with a crowd and make a american culture.

Newspapers would be bigger and have more routes in the us.

NEW ENTERTAINMENT

The radio which was rare in many american homes until 1920. More and more americans were able to have the radio in there household.

The networks would be put together with stations and play all the same music, news and commercials in the US.

